The Game That Made the Peoria Convention Racy.

A Ticket Results Which Nobody Foresaw.

The Delegates at Large Instructed for Logan.

The Colored Citizens Make Their Usual Vain Endeavor to Get a Place on the Ticket—Interesting Scenes and Incidents.

case wherein the seats of five anti-Logan men from Chicago were contested. The committee stated that it found that the grounds of contest had already been passed upon by the County Convention of Cook County, and that should be final. It therefore recommended that the anti-Logan men retain their seats. They were a cold-blooded set of sharp speeches from parties in interest, was adopted. The Committee on Permanent Organization recommended that the temporary officers be made permanent, and the report was adopted with a cheer. Thus, in less than twenty minutes the convention was ready for work. Gen. Howard of Adams County, in a carefully prepared speech to which the audience of Oglesby by Chairman Connelly a couple of hours before gave a cold-potato effect, nominated Gen. H. G. Oglesby for Governor, and the nomination was made by acclamation, and a rising vote, and three cheers. A committee was appointed to select the permanent officers, and nominations for Lieutenant Governor were called for. Gen. John C. Smith and John Fairbanks of Chicago, and Gen. John W. Kinaster of Carlinville, were named, and on the first ballot Smith won by all of the 730 votes cast. Kinaster receiving 24.

Gen. Oglesby now appeared and delivered an address of acceptance about an hour in length, in which the history of the Republican party was reviewed at great length to the manifest annoyance of the delegates who wanted to get on with the work. His reception was an ovation, however, and all through his speech the applause was furious.

For Secretary of State Henry D. Dement, president incumbent and F. P. Wolf, of Peoria, were named, and Mr. Wolf was elected by a majority of 631 votes. Mr. Wolf said he was satisfied that the delegates would not ask for a verification. The nomination of Dement was made unanimously.

Charles E. Swigart, of Peoria, was nominated for Auditor by acclamation.

Then came the big fight for Treasurer. Jacob Gross, Charles Becker, Harry T. Little and John H. Reman were nominated. The first ballot resulted in a vote of 323 for Becker, 297 for Gross, 215 for Little and the balance for Reman. A second ballot gave 327 votes for Gross, and it took an awful long time for Becker to catch up that lead, but he did it. Before the feelings could be cooled, the delegations began to change their votes, and soon the tally sheet was in a state of hopeless confusion. A second ballot was called for, and while it was pending Little and Reman were drawn. The ballot then resulted: Gross 425, Becker 323.

The committee appointed to suggest officers at large submitted a report recommending for electors Senator Shelby M. Culom, Gov. John M. Hamilton, Burton E. Connor, Charles E. Swigart, of Galesburg, for electors, C. S. Smith, T. A. Needles, Jacob Stanton and B. W. Wood.

named Howard, protested at this report and insisted that if the Republican party were sincere in its professions of regard for the negro, it would prove its sincerity by naming one of the Caucasian delegates at large and substituting J. W. K. Thomas, colored, of Chicago, who would be worth 40,000 votes to the ticket.

The applause was very great and confusion reigned, until Blufford Wilson got in a motion to recommit the report with instructions that a colored man be put on as a delegate at large. Several of the committee called attention to the fact that the Smith delegation, who was one of the altercations, was a colored man.

Mr. Smith made a vigorous speech against the motion of his colored brother, saying that the colored delegates had discussed the subject in the morning and had advised them to make their demand before the committees retired. They did not do it, and now, he said, it was too late.

for any such action.

The Chicago colored men explained contentedly that Smith was opposed to having a colored man made delegate at large, because, as he himself was only an alternate, that would put him in the attitude of playing second fiddle to "some other nigger."

Mr. Humphreys of Sangamon made a sensation by moving that the committee be instructed to report a colored man instead of Clark K. Carr, who has held the position of postmaster for twenty-four years.

This brought Mr. Carr to his feet, and in a brief, sarcastic speech, he stated that he was a colored man, and that he had been the negroes' friend, as one of the officers of that famous "underground railway from bondage to freedom" and from him to think he was a crime to hold for twenty-four years a postmaster position to which he was first appointed by Abraham Lincoln, then he was a criminal, and he would take him off the ticket. Should they do so? he was very humble, and would work just as hard for his successor on the ticket as he would for himself.

This play of humility was a strong one, and the Convention gave Mr. Carr three cheers.

The report was laid over till evening, when Mr. Wilson's motion to recommit the report, and moved that the report be adopted. After speeches by Howard, Jarvis, and other negroes, the report was adopted, and a motion to reconsider failed.

After the vote on the delegate at large matter in the afternoon, the convention proceeded to the nomination of a candidate for Attorney General. James McCartney of Wayne were named, the ballot resulting in Hunt's triumph by a vote of 430 to 390.

The only other business of the convention was the adoption of the following report of the Committee on Resolutions, submitted by Gen. W. C. Kuehner of Belleville:

THE PLATFORM.

The Committee on Resolutions reported the platform, which declares that "whereas, the Republican party has for a quarter of a century been the champion of the oppressed, and whereas, the great party has succeeded by being aggressive and fearless in the support of the rights of the Republic, and Illinois, in convention assembled, mindful of the glorious history of the past, history, renew our pledge of fidelity to the principles which have repeatedly received the endorsement of the people."

After several resolutions relating to State affairs only the platform continues:

Resolved, That under the Constitution and laws every citizen in the nation has the right to the free and untrammelled exercise of the franchise, and we denounce with unmeasured condemnation, as one of the most heinous and un-American of crimes, political terrorism, kidnapping, murder and all frauds resorted to as a means of controlling elections.

Resolved, That the Republican party of Illinois approves all legislation which tends to promote honesty and efficiency in the civil service of the State, and we denounce all legislation which tends to great safeguard against unfaithfulness and inefficiency in the perpetration of power of a party to the exclusion of all others.

Resolved, That this Convention cordially endorses the administration of President Arthur, whose honest statesmanship and good judgment in the details of administration have won for him the approval of the entire country.

After a resolution declaring that the Republican party should continue to be the protector of the workingman, the platform continues:

Resolved, That taking just pride in the integrity and patriotism of the character and political sagacity of the soldier statesman of Illinois, Gen. John A. Logan, we demand that in peace and in war he should be honored and dignity upon the State, promoted the welfare and the interests of the nation, and that we should support his administration in the event of his reelection.

large and request those from the several districts to give him their individual and earnest support, relying upon the consistency, fidelity and patriotism of the Republican party of Illinois. While desiring the advancement of its chosen leader to a position rendered illustrious by a Lincoln and a Grant, we pledge to the Republicans of the nation a hearty, earnest and triumphant support to the nominee at Chicago, whoever he may be.

BATIFICATION.

After the report was adopted, Senator Culom and Gov. Hamilton delivered ratification speeches, which were not heard by the delegates.

After the night meeting, which did not close till 11 o'clock, the new Central Committee organized by electing Louis Jones chairman and Dan Sheppard secretary. They succeeded themselves and are both Logan men from Chicago. About half the delegates left on night trains which were delayed for their accommodation. Most of the others left to-day.

The substitution of Cook and Carr as delegates at-large for Storer and Baum, was the result of the dissatisfaction which has already been fully explained in the FOOT-DRIPPER. The entire delegation will vote for Logan; but Carr, one of Arthur's employees, is regarded as a probable Arthur man when Logan is out of the way. The others will doubtless go to Blaine, as will all but about twelve of the district delegates, whose support will be given to either. Of course, if a hard fight makes Lincoln a possible nominee, Illinois will shift to him almost as a matter of course.

During the evening recess the delegates from the respective divisions of the Supreme Court met and nominated candidates for clerk. Charles Becker was nominated for the clerkship of the Fourth District Appellate Court, and W. E. Bond for the clerkship of the southern division of the Supreme Court.

WELCOMING THE VICTOR.

About 300 of our citizens, headed by the editor of the Post-Dispatch, met this morning to greet and welcome the victor of the convention and nominated candidates for clerk. Charles Becker was nominated for the clerkship of the Fourth District Appellate Court, and W. E. Bond for the clerkship of the southern division of the Supreme Court.

TILDEN NEVER SAID NO.

A Missourian who Thinks the Old Man Will Accept if Nominated.

By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 17.—John G. Priest of St. Louis, who was the confidential friend of Mr. Tilden on the Democratic National Committee in 1876, was asked at the Fifth Avenue Hotel if he had seen Tilden since he left the capital, and he replied: "I have seen him often; I saw him when I was here four weeks ago."

"What do you know of his wishes about the Presidential nomination of your party?"

"I don't believe that he wants it. I know he does not, in fact, for I have had long and confidential talks with him on the subject. He has no ambition or aspirations for the position. He had rather remain in quiet for the remaining hours of his life."

"Then you do not think he would accept the nomination?"

"Quite on the contrary, I think he would. I never said that he never yet told any one that he would not accept the nomination. Although never said so directly to me, I am confident he would yield to the pressure of the party and to the good of the country would accept the nomination if it was tendered him. He is not seeking it or secretly longing for it. He is really hoping he can persuade the party not to put it on him. But he is the kind of man who never shirks a duty, and would not decline."

"How about his health?"

"I am not one of those who think he couldn't stand the pressure of the White House. He is not as active as he was at 20, but in eight years I do not notice any extent. He cannot fully use his right hand, but many men who are accustomed to active service and have been through a long and a thorough trouble of long standing. On account of his age he could not make any stump speech. He has outlived many of the visiting statesmen who helped to wrinkle his face and make his hair white. He is as vigorous as any man I have ever known. He will accept the nomination. Missouri is solid for him. He will be the other nominee beyond question. He will have a good number of delegates from Missouri. It is a common sense that in both parties the effort is being made to get the man—not the man—the man—Blaine is doing nothing to secure a nomination, neither is Tilden. Blaine will get his nomination pretty near the first ballot."

THEY SPEAK AS THEY PASS BY.

Gen. Grant Friendly With Both President Arthur and Mr. Blaine.

By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 17.—Gen. Grant said to a correspondent of the Post-Dispatch, who called on him at his residence, No. 3 East Sixty-sixth street, yesterday, that the paragraph clothed in the Herald of Monday from a Washington letter, and representing that he left the capital without returning President Arthur's call, did him an injustice, as it was the evident intention of the writer to convey the impression that he (Gen. Grant) and the President are not on friendly terms. "The fact is," continued the General, "that soon after my arrival President Arthur called on me and stayed only a half an hour, but told him at the time that I would not be able to return in person, because of the difficulty experienced through lameness in getting up and down stairs, and that for the same reason would not do any visiting all during my stay. It is true that one morning I walked over, for the exercise, to see Gen. Beaulieu whose home I have often stayed while in Washington and on another occasion I drove up to see Gen. Sheridan, but with these exceptions I returned to my home and did not see either President Arthur or Mr. Blaine while I was in Washington. But soon after his call, in company with Mrs. Grant, who was visited by President Arthur's sister, and who, in company with her, I drove to President Arthur's and left in my car, and I did the same again shortly before my leaving Washington. I also acted in precisely the same manner towards Mr. Blaine, who likewise called on me soon after my arrival, and we had relations with President Arthur and are always have been of the most friendly nature, though he is by no means my choice for the Presidency."

Gen. Grant is looking quite well. He says he has so far recovered from the injury to his leg as not to suffer any pain from it at all except on a wrench or sudden movement. At times he is able to walk about without his crutches, but at other times he is compelled to use them.

THE VANDERBILT TOMB.

Preparations Being Made Looking to Its Removal and Burialment.

By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 17.—Wm. H. Vanderbilt has decided to the United Brethren, or Moravian Church Society, of New Dorps, S. I., an acre of land in consideration of $7,000. The land adjoins the Moravian Cemetery. The price is considered nominal, as the improvements cost more than the price paid. It is believed that the new tomb of Wm. Vanderbilt will be placed in this tract on a prominent mound and have plenty of room around it. The present Vanderbilt monument, a plain granite structure which stands only a few feet from the grave, which have very ordinary tombstones, and which have been erected by the family, knowing that the Vanderbilt wanted more room or space about their lot, it has been said, have asked unreasonable prices for the removal of the old monument, so that the village people think that Wm. H. Vanderbilt has decided to have an abundance of space and a section of the cemetery laid out in a manner to suit himself.

A Difference of $10,000.

GREENFIELD, ORE., April 17.—Wm. F. McLaughlin, grocer, assigned. Liabilities, $14,000; assets, $4,000.

Conspirators Convicted.

JAMES CURT, N. J., April 17.—Harrington and President on trial for conspiracy to deprive the American Legion of Honor, were convicted to-day.

First Boat From St. Louis to St. Paul.

ST. PAUL, April 17.—The first steamer of the season, the St. Paul, arrived from St. Louis last night and started on her return trip this morning.

The Moravian Missionary.

LAWRENCE, MASS., April 17.—The Moravian River is rising half inch an hour, and is continuing to rise with each hour of the tide.
